

Two rungs for brokers. One of them is free.

Free connects the panel you already have.
Pro grows and defends the panel you want.

Digital waste tracking is included on both — you will need it from October 2027, and we do not charge for it.

Broker Free is for intermediaries only — no owned containers, no owned fleet, no jobs run in your own name. Operators who also broker are priced on the standard Fleetlix tiers.

EARNING BROKER PRO

Introduce a carrier who actually starts using Fleetlix and you both get something. No cash changes hands — so nobody is ever put in the position of leaning on a carrier to sign up.

01

Share your code

Every broker account carries a referral code and a share link.

02

They get two months

The carrier sees it at signup — two months free on whichever tier suits them.

03

They get going

Ten completed jobs in thirty days, at least three of them their own direct work.

04

You get two months

Two months of Broker Pro land in your account. Up to twelve months at a time.

- Nothing is ever clawed back. If the carrier leaves later, you keep the months you earned.
- The reward depends on them adopting, not signing. That is why three of the ten jobs must be their own — it is deliberately not enough to just push your own work through them.
- When Pro time runs out you drop back to Free, not to nothing. Your panel and your history stay exactly where they are.

WHAT YOUR CARRIERS CAN AND CANNOT SEE

Your margin is never visible to your carriers. By design, not by policy.

Carriers appear in discovery only if they switch it on, choose their own districts and container types, and approve each introduction. Either side can disconnect at any time; past jobs stay readable to both.
